Good afternoon folks,

Today's news release, which can be viewed at the above link, focuses on our progress on exploration preparation, geological modelling, and specific drilling plans.

Next tasks: I will now put all this new data into our formal presentation and 'take it on the road'...with a view to improving our pricing and attracting some new investors, as well as encouraging a cash-flowing enterprising company...to take an interest in your company!

We are well positioned and have the team – the geo-scientists, the governance and financiers, and the staffing...to accomplish a discovery this drilling season.

Cheers,

Albert
