~ What to do next? ~

Good afternoon folks,

Am drawing your attention to today's news release at the above link.

What to do now...the suspension of drilling this past fall and reduced staffing/overheads (made further salary reductions)...has helped us maintain our footing...and with a more consistent upturn in the gold price (hope springs eternal in the spring) we expect an improvement in financing or merger/joint venture partner prospects to allow us to pursue the exploration opportunities we've identified.

Wishing you all the best for the Christmas season and for the New Year,

Cheers,

Albert
